

Swap new junk for old values

A good life is simple

500 percent is the number of global gross domestic product increase since 1983 – contrarily life satisfaction only increased by 0,001 percent

75 percent of the individual carbon footprint relates to consumption

800 old trees are felled daily in the north of Russia for usage in furniture industries

overdeveloped.eu

2015 European Year for Development

Climate Alliance